STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin

The Lewiston Journal says It is now thought that the suicide of Mrs Harlow at Mechanic Falls Sunday, was caused by recent disclosures made in relation to robberies committed by her nephew, Frank Davis

The Western Union Telegraph Company has opened an office at S Buttle

The Journal says While Mr James Clark, of Lewiston, was journeying on the Sabattis road, a day or two ago, he was met by a careless teamster who crowded him into the ditch When Mr Clark's horse sprang out of the ditch, the wheels of the wagon struck the rear wheels of the other team and he was thrown out He clung to the reins and was dragged four rods by the horse When he got up his other garments had been stripped from him and he was hardly presentable His shoulder was lamed badly and his head was injured

Cumberland

Mr Daniel Garland, of Portland, died suddenly of heart disease, Saturday. He had been lying on a lounge, and, as he arose, fell dead

Capt Amos Jewett has bought the condemned bark Liverton and will for a time use her in freighting ice from his West port house to Portland

George L Welch, the Boston & Maine brakeman, struck by an overhead bridge, at Reading on the 21st ult., is getting well at his home in Portland

The Portland Press says Wednesday afternoon a young lady was skating on the pond near the Kerosene Works, when the ice broke and she fell into the water. The crowd shouted and screamed to encourage the young lady and then ran to the shore The girl sank once and on coming to the surface grasped the edge of the ice and held on to it until a young man on the bank got some planks, spread them upon the ice around the hole and drew the young lady from her perilous position She was in the water twenty minutes.

Franklin.

The Phonograph says Rev Mr. Butts, of New Portland, has closed his labors at Phillips, and the Rev Mr Mills, of New Brunswick is expected to take his place.

The firm of Chester A Greenwood & Co, manufacturers of the Greenwood ear protector, have fitted up a two story shop having made new machinery for the different operations, eighteen being used The machinery is driven by an engine of three horse power They are manufacturing 50 000 pairs for this year's trade, making 1 000 pairs a day, employing ten hands, mostly females, in the shop, and some six or eight out of the shop The manufactory is located at West Farmington

Oxford.

The Oxford Advertiser says a little girl of fourteen, in Stoneham eloped Thursday night with a young man of twenty one went to New Hampshire, and were married

The Pullman House in Mexico occupied by I E Gleason, was burned Monday morning Mr G was aroused just before one o'clock and found fire around the chimney, extending from cook room to the roof Defective chimney was the cause. The greater part of the contents of the two lower stories was saved, but little was taken from the attic or cellar The ell and stable was very nearly cleared of valuables Insured for eight hundred dollars A shingle shed or storehouse owned by Lewis H Reed, was also burned The building was not valuable but contained a large lot of oats of corn only a part of which was saved

Piscataquis

The Observer says that Mr. Thomas Crooker, of Monson, died quite suddenly, on Sunday last, at the age of 66 His health had been failing for some months past, but he was confined to the house but comparatively few days, and his death was unexpectedly sudden. His disease was some obscure internal trouble, from which he suffered considerable pain

Sagadahoc.

The Bath Times says A serious accident Saturday morning, upon Sewall's new ship the W F Babcock, resulting in injuries of a nature difficult to state definitely at present. Horatio Patten, at work in the ballasting crew, while walking between decks Saturday morning, stepped through an open ballasting hatch and fell into the hold, a distance of 18 feet, striking on the ballast. The darkness between decks prevented his noticing the open hatchway The blow received was a slanting one upon the hip, but he struck very heavily upon the keelson of the vessel He was able to walk going down the gang plank. No bones are broken, but injuries to the spine are feared. Mr. Patterson is a young man of about 27 years, unmarried, and resides on Crescent street, near High. The hatchway is one of the small ballasting hatches that are now commonly placed in large ships and that make walking between decks extremely hazardous.

Somerset.

A fire broke out in the house of James Pugh, in Cornville, a week ago Sunday night, and the house and a shed attached were burned to the ground! Mr. Pugh lost nearly all his household goods, 200 bushels of grain, 15 bushels of beans, two large hogs and other property. As he had no insurance the loss was a severe one to him.

The Dexter Gazette says the wife of Harrison Snell, of St. Albans, died in her chair last week, from a paralytic shock.

The driving corporation taking advantage of low water in the river have employed John Rowell, of Solon, and a crew of men who have been clearing out the troublesome boulders and ledges from the lake dam to Bingham, with atlas power. For the last two weeks they have been at work on the ledges around an island nearly opposite Bingham Village.

The Reporter says that G. S. Hill, of Skowhegan, lost a valuable mare, Thursday morning. She was valued at $1,000 and one of her two year old colts was sold to Mr. Saunders, of Haverhill, last week for $250.

Washington.

A young man by the name of Guptill was waylaid and quite badly beaten by four roughs, near North End bridge, Pembroke, on Saturday night last, between 10 and 11 o'clock. The roughs escaped.

Penobscot.

Early Thursday morning two men were discovered in C. H. Webber's clothing store in Saco, and arrested. From the way they entered it is thought they are professionals. One gave his name as Thomas Barnes, of Boston, and the other as Charles Howard, of Sherbrook, Canada.

The Orrs'ee News says the long continued drouth is becoming serious in York county Not only are the mill streams and brooks unusually low, but wells are failing, so much so is this the case in this village that it is difficult to get sufficient water for animals to drink. A gentleman from Limington says that there are but two wells in that village but what are dry If the ground freezes for winter without rain there will be serious suffering from lack of water

JEWELS AND FURS

POPULAR STYLES FOR THE SEASON

(New York Tribune)

A mystic, poetic charm is lent to the magnificent flowers of the mineral world, indicating a tone of sentiment Oriental in design and coloring Diamonds still maintain a high rank, representing the concentrated essence of wealth, a note that the bearer need never fear being dishonored in any quarter of the globe, but these regal stones are now arranged as part of a superb orchestra of color, forming a rainbow of harmonious and gorgeous beauty Chief among these gleam sapphires of that India shade which the Chinese call a blue of the heavens after a rain, the Alexandrite, a new and rare stone of the Oriental chrysoberyl family emitting soft yellow green and red brown lights, the lustrous cat'seye, also of the chrysoberyl family, tourmalines, the balas ruby, peridots, green garnets and topazes of gold color, violet and blue, A new pink topi'ze the beautiful green Hiddenite, and sapphires of rich citron yellow and brown ruby A new and superb Alexandrite by daylight is of the rarest shades of blue-green, showing shifting lights of red and blue At night beneath the gas the green disappears and a brilliant red takes its place This wonderful stone also possesses great lustre With these dazzling gems mingles the delicate shimmer of pearls, the rosy pearl of the East lending a flush to the lustrous white, softly blending in the opal pearl, the metallic lustre of the Panama pearl, the yellow pearl of China, the copper and bronze-tinted and black pearl, in gradation of light and shade

There is a great deal of useless talk about the extravagance of Americans When all other topics fail newspapers attack fashion and the changes of fashion and the love of show, which is unparalleled since Chaos was made into a world There exists no reason why wealthy people should not gather about them whatever luxuries they desire from the four quarters of the globe. They know that Juno charmed Jove with her exquisite toilet, and wore in her ears 'pearls great and orient", jewels won the love of Rebekah for Isaac particularly an earring of gold that weighed over a quarter of an ounce then there are the examples of the luxurious Assyrians, the magnificence of the Egyptians, the Jews—all of these fashions are borrowed in their jewels, their embroideries and workings in gold and silver Tastes are indulged, and the wheel of trade kept in motion

A GALAXY OF GEMS

A glowing specimen of Oriental coloring is seen in a Greek cross of large size A magnificent green tourmaline is set in the top, across in the strongest contrast is displayed a blue sapphire, a ruby gem spinelle and a ruby brown tourmaline of great size and brilliancy, a rose ruby flashes in the lower end and a large, superb diamond is set at each point of each stone The cross is suspended from a massive bar, a magnificent yellow sapphire radiant as the sun gleams from the centre, and at each end is set in low relief a pear shaped diamond Accompanying this bewildering beauty of form and color is a narrow bracelet closely studded with the gems showing the different colors of sapphires, of smaller size and paler tints each one alternating with a diamond. A narrower bangle bracelet is set with an enormous, marvellously brilliant sapphire and two diamonds Of the exquisite variety of lace pins one is fancifully shaped, somewhat of the form of two separate scrolls, brilliant with a large green garnet, a ruby and diamonds A small diamond is set at each end of a scroll. One of the bangle bracelets, gorgeous in its Oriental beauty is set with India topazes of vivid gold color, a violet having flashes of red, and one of blue, diamonds are placed between each pair of these.

In translucent depths and brilliancy of the stripes some large cateyes are of unsurpassed brilliancy and chatoyant shifting lights Ones of these forms the centre of an artistic lace pin surrounded by equally large sized diamonds and another forms the chief beauty of a diamond-studded bracelet One of a pair of bangle bracelets of the cross-over description is set with diamonds on the two bars, between the bars that pass each other gleam pearls of different tints The other has a large pearl set in the top surrounded by diamonds and the ends of the bracelet that cross are carved and closely studded with diamonds. A massive gold band bracelet is a glittering blaze of alternate immense diamonds and emeralds of equal size and purest color and lustre.

Every variety of these superb stones is combined in lace pins, pendant, and other workings in gold for full-dress toilets In the way of small earrings, nothing can be more exquisitely modest, yet costly and lustrous withal, than the balls of gold of finest beaded work, so paved with tiny diamonds that the metal, rich in detail yet so bright, is quite unseen, excepting by the closest inspection. Another pair, simple in form, consists of a large black pearl that is suspended from a diamond, and a pair of rubies of the rarest color and richness are surrounded by equally fine diamonds. A superb large green tourmaline, with a diamond gleaming like a star above, is lustrous beyond description

JEWELS FOR FULL DRESS WEAR

One would imagine that the repertory of the jeweler's art was exhausted, but there is still a novelty to be chronicled in the way of some superb ornaments which have a special relation to the full-dress costume of the period, taking the place of the bouquet de corsage of natural flowers generally attached to the lower point of a heart-shaped waist. These large pieces of rich and elaborate work are seen in the most intricate designs of filigree, beaded, plaited and delicately overlaid wire-work. For example A peacock standing in alto relievo—some portions stand quite free—set closely with finest emeralds, is mounted on an immense diamond. The spread tail is set with large diamonds for the eyes, and other smaller stones are arranged, rich in detail, but light and elaborate in the mass Another style is in coronet or crown shape, the upper part studded with superb diamonds. There are besides flower pieces and designs bearing rows of jewels of contrasting colors, oval, heart-shaped, with precious stones alternating in the most regal and enchanting manner with royal richness and burning glory.

Gentlemen's charms are now out in much variety. Some very elegant scarf pins are set with a pear shaped pearl and tiny diamonds, or an exquisite moonstone, a cats-eye, or Indian colors in a few small jewels, a black, brown or red tourmaline, or a balas ruby. The glove ring is especially affected by gentlemen. Whatever may be the setting it is in low relief, so that it rests flatly on the finger without interfering with a glove. There are many elegant and artistic designs for the ornaments of the watch fob. In a clasp or buckle the cross-pieces are segments of a circle, and the ornamental foliation a mere bud. These are in oxidised gold, silver, or gold manipulated into various processes. Linked sleeve-buttons still remain fashionable.

The imitations of jewels which are too frequently seen are not only in exceedingly bad taste, but are absurd. Like all other imitations they deceive no one, and the first lustre soon passes away! They then stand revealed for what they are. Diamonds and pearls, but particularly the diamonds, before which, if real, the Koh-i-noor would hide abashed, are met daily in

THE MESSAGE.

A reading of President Arthur's second annual message shows it to be a very comprehensive and strongly written document. The rehearsing of a great amount of the detail that is given also in the departmental reports, has for years tended to expand Presidential messages to inordinate length, and the present is not an exception to the rule. On the questions of currency, tariff and taxation the President expresses sound views that will meet with general approval. His references to our foreign relations are mainly excellent, but in reference to the Chilian dismemberment of Peru, the President finds it very hard work to excuse the worse than blundering of Mr. Frelinghuysen's ostentatious obstruction and reversal of the sagacious policy inaugurated by Secretary Blaine with the sanction of Presidents Garfield and Arthur, and which commanded a popular approval that has only been strengthened by the events now lamented in the message. There can be no question that the most inexcusable folly in the history of American diplomacy was that exhibited by Secretary Frelinghuysen in arresting negotiations that were so full of promise of benefit to our relations with all the other governments on this continent —for no other conceivable reason than a desire to prevent the success of a great line of policy identified with the name of his distinguished predecessor. The President, in his message, slides over the matter as easily as possible, but the effort to explain seems to show his consciousness of the mistake that has been made.

The civil service reformers will doubtless be surprised to find so earnest a convert in the President, and late Chairman of the New York Republican State Committee, but he seems disposed to go the whole figure, and manifests a zeal that ought to be appreciated by Mr. George William Curtis. His recommendation of the Pendleton Senate bill, reminds us of the eagerness with which that crafty Democratic politician sought in the late campaign to reassure his followers in regard to that measure. In his speech at Mount Gilead, Ohio, in October last, Senator Pendleton assured his hearers that his civil service reform gun wasn't loaded to harm Democrats, but quite the contrary, saying:

"It has been said that the abandonment of the spoils system will exclude Democrats from office when the day of our victory shall come. Not at all. On the contrary, I believe that the adoption of this policy as our party creed will hasten the day of the victory of our party, and its adoption as a law will, under any Administration, fill many offices with Democrats."

MARSHAL HENRY'S SUCCESSOR.

A Washington despatch of Dec. 3, says: "At the request of Mr. Brewster, President Arthur to-night appointed Clayton McMichael, of Philadelphia, United States Marshal, in place of Mr. Henry. Mr. McMichael is in the city and will take the oath in the morning and take his place in Court when the Star Route cases come on to-morrow. He must qualify before the Senate meets at noon, or else Captain Henry could not be suspended without the consent of that body. Mr. McMichael is the editor of the Philadelphia North American, and is a brother of William McMichael, Independent candidate for Congressman-at-Large in the recent election in Pennsylvania. He has never held office, but this appointment is considered a most excellent one, and will stand a good chance of being confirmed by the Senate. The fact that he is a society man, of excellent family connection and representing the liberal element in Pennsylvania politics, renders his selection a popular one. It is understood that Don Cameron endorsed the appointment."

Col. Clayton McMichael is a son of the late Hon. Morton McMichael, of Philadelphia, and has many acquaintances in military circles in this State having been stationed at Augusta in the recruiting service as a Captain of the 9th Regiment U. S. Regulars in 1864. He has always been an enthusiastic friend and supporter of Mr. Blaine, and if the appointment has been suggested with the expectation of shaking his allegiance to the "Leader of Leaders," we are very sure that it will be disappointed. If, however, the selection has been made with a sincere desire to recognize the anti-Cameron wing in Pennsylvania and to harmonize the party, the appointment is a good one.

It is only a few days since the foreman of the Public Printer's Office in Washington was removed for being concerned in the publication of a newspaper, and now we are informed that First Assistant Postmaster General Hatton on Monday assumed editorial supervision of the Washington Daily Republican. Work must be slack in the P. O. Department if the First Assistant has leisure enough to conduct the editorial work of a daily paper.

It is scarcely worth while for Congress to waste any time over the Fitz John Porter case. During the past four years there has been a decided change of sentiment in favor of General Porter.—Boston Journal.

We commend to the Journal a perusal of General Logan's recent letter on that subject.

Four Territories are now seeking admission to the Union as States—Dakota, Washington, Utah and New Mexico. If Washington and Dakota should be admitted the present winter, they would have six votes in the Electoral College of 1884. As they are Republican Territories the Democrats will assuredly oppose their admission. Governor Ordway, of Dakota, on Wednesday last was in Chicago on his way to Washington for the purpose of urging the admission of the Territory. He is chairman of a committee that will present a memorial to Congress on the subject. He estimates that Dakota has now 300,000 inhabitants.

When the Franco-Prussian war was begun Germany had no war vessels of any account afloat and was compelled to see her ports blockaded and her commerce driven from the seas without being able to strike a blow in defence. She now owns 1 monitor, 7 iron-clad frigates, 15 iron-clad corvettes, 11 armor-plated gunboats, 19 unarmored corvettes, 11 unarmored gunboats, 15 torpedo boats, 8 coastguard vessels, 10 training-ships and 18 vessels for harbor service. Nearly all of the men-of-war are of the newest design, carry tremendous artillery and steam at a high rate of speed.

It is understood that the Bishop of Winchester will succeed Dr. Tait, late Archbishop of Canterbury. The office yields a revenue of $75,000 a year.

THE DUTY OF CONGRESS.

SENATOR SHERMAN ON THE TARIFF AND TAXATION.

[From the Boston Advertiser.]

UNITED STATES SENATE,
Washington, D. C., Nov. 29, 1882.

In reply to your note of inquiry, I have to say that I agree that it is very important that the Republicans of the present Congress should do their utmost to secure at this winter's session a full revision of the tariff with a view to reduce taxation and to remove the inequalities and imperfections of the present law. Most of these grow out of the change in the relative value of important articles, such as iron and steel, and of palpable evasions of the standards of value, such as have been practiced as to sugar. I thought that this important work of revision should have been done at the last session, but as by the Constitution a revenue bill can only originate in the House of Representatives, and the proper committee of that House did not act upon the subject, it only remained practicable to secure by a commission such information as will expedite the revision at the present session.

The proper policy, it seems to me, for the Republican Senators and members to adopt is to secure such a reduction of internal revenue as will limit this form of taxes to spirits, tobacco and beer, and to modify and reduce these taxes so that in the aggregate they will yield about one hundred millions of dollars a year.

This will still allow ample room for the reduction or repeal of a multitude of duties on imported goods that obstruct instead of protect our industry. We can remove ambiguities and inequalities of rate or classification, we can simplify the law by repealing compound duties; we can admit free of duty many articles needed as raw material for domestic industry, and in many ways give substantial relief without impairing the general effect of our tariff laws to foster, protect and diversify home manufactures.

National taxation should now be reduced to a sum barely sufficient to meet the current expenses of the Government, the interest of the public debt, and the requirement of the sinking fund. It should be remembered that there will be required for two or three years, at least, a very large sum, annually, to comply with the pension laws. Whatever may be said in respect to the want of care in framing these laws, they are beyond recall, and must be fully complied with. Not less than one hundred millions a year will be required for that purpose for two or three years. When the estimates are submitted, we can approximately ascertain the extent to which we can safely carry the reduction of taxes. To that full extent I certainly will do my utmost, and will seek to apply the reduction to such taxes, both internal and external, as are now felt to be most burdensome by the people.

It must be remembered, though often ignored by the press, that the Republicans have not the power to pass any tariff bill without the aid or acquiescence of Democratic Senators and members. The two parties are so equally divided, especially in the Senate, that the rules of proceeding easily enables the Democratic Senators to defeat our best endeavors to reduce taxes, as they did at the last session. I bespeak, therefore, from that portion of the press so much in the habit of criticizing whatever is done by Republicans a reasonable forbearance, and invite them to keep at least one eye open to how the opposition we are likely to encounter from those who wish to revise the tariff in such a way as will inevitably lead to the destruction of great industrial interests fostered by Republican care, and the consequent reduction of the wages of labor and the ability to employ laborers. But for this I would have no fear that the Republican party would not, perhaps too tardily, furnish the country a judicious revision of the tariff at the present session.

Very respectfully yours,
JOHN SHERMAN.

SCRAMBLING DEMAGOGISM.

[Wash. Special to Boston Journal, Dec. 3.]

This being "suspension day" when motions by individuals to suspend the rules are in order, Chairman Hiscock, of the Appropriation Committee, as soon as the call of States had been been concluded, offered for passage a resolution discharging the Select Committee on Civil Service Reform from the consideration of the principal bills before it, and referring them to his committee with instructions to embody the substance of them in one of the general appropriation bill. This was treading pretty hard on the toes of the select committee, and Kasson, who is in the absence of Orth, who is critically ill in Indiana, is acting Chairman, was immediately upon his feet, protesting and begging Hiscock to withdraw his resolution. Kasson had prepared a resolution authorizing the Select Committee to report at any time, and fixing the 12th inst. as the day for the consideration of the Civil Service Reform bill, this bill to have precedence over all other business, except appropriation and revenue bills. At once there was a flurry on the Democratic side, where candidates for Speakership of the next House are numerous and active. Randall was the first of them to obtain the floor. He declared that the subject was one of such pressing importance that, if necessary, it should receive legislative action in the form of a rider to an appropriation bill.

Sunset Cox followed in the same strain, after some characteristic comments on the spontaneous ebullition of virtue on the Republican side of the House. In conclusion Cox gracefully yielded to his "distinguished friend, who is also a candidate for Speaker," indicating Springer by a wave of the hand. Springer, who had been busy all the morning greeting his Democratic fellow members and testing their Speakership preferences, rose amid shouts of laughter from all sides, and declared in his most fervid rhetoric his devotion to civil service reform and his consuming anxiety that immediate action should be taken in regard to it. The three members named were the only candidates for the Speakership who took part in the discussion. Under the circumstances Hiscock was prevailed upon to withdraw his resolution and allow a vote to be taken on the one presented by Kasson, which was adopted without a discussion, while the practical friends of civil service reform do not believe that it will be possible to obtain any legislation at this session, except by using a general appropriation bill as a medium therefor.

They do some things better in Austria than they are done in this country. One of Coquelin's recent performances in Vienna was slimly attended, although all the seats in the theatre had been sold. It was subsequently explained that the police had arrested a number of speculators and confiscated their tickets. The other members of the craft were afraid to dispose of the seats which they had bought, seeing in every applicant a detective in disguise.

Black Diamond Wedge Axes.

TO LUMBERMEN AND WOOD CHOPPERS.

We are now manufacturing AXES FROM BLACK DIAMOND STEEL and BEST NORWAY IRON expressly for choppers. They are HAND HAMMERED and CHARCOAL TEMPERED and we spare no expense to have them perfect.

If with good stock, a good Axe can be made, by a man who has made Axes all his business life, this must be a good one. Any reasonable man knows that it is impossible to make a first-class Axe at the low price factory Axes are now sold. Some few in a lot may prove good, but they are made under a trip hammer with great haste, tempered with common blacksmith's coal which gives a very uneven heat and necessarily many of them must prove poor.

We simply ask for the BLACK DIAMOND AXE a sample order, knowing that they will show and prove all we claim for them.

Prices furnished on application.

We keep in stock leading brands of factory Axes at lowest prices.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 6, 1882.

BY TELEGRAPH.

MAINE NEWS.

A Sad Fate.

BIDDEFORD, Dec. 5. Yesterday afternoon the wife of Stephen W. Chase, who was of intemperate habits, was found in her room fatally burned. It is supposed her clothes took fire from a pipe that she had been smoking. She was thirty years old.

XLVII CONGRESS—Second Session.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5. Mr. Brown presented the credentials of Mr. Barrow, chosen to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Hill, of Georgia. When the credentials were read, Mr. Edmunds remarked that the Governor's certificate was not in his judgment in conformity with the act of Congress, but as all knew that Mr. Barrow had been regularly elected, he would not urge the point, being content to call attention to it, so that the defective certificate should not be drawn into precedent.

The oath of office was then administered to the new Senator. The President pro tem laid the annual report of the Comptroller of Currency before the Senate and it was ordered printed. On motion of Mr. Anthony the standing and select committees as they existed at the last session were continued. Mr. Saunders gave notice that early next week he would call up the pending bill for the admission of Dakota.

Mr. Beck offered a preamble and resolution setting forth the law against political assessments with copies of circulars, asking contributions for political purposes, issued by the Republican and Readjuster Committees in the last campaign, and instructing the Judiciary Committee to investigate the matter fully and report by bill or otherwise on or before February 1st, 1883. Mr. Beck said he would call up the resolution to-morrow.

Mr. Morgan, of Alabama, introduced a resolution for the amendment of the constitution authorizing the President to veto part of an appropriation bill and approve the remainder.

Mr. Platt offered a resolution instructing the Commissioner of Pensions to give a mass of information in relation to the pension roll and the probable effect upon it of the passage of House bill 1410 now pending in the Senate. Mr. Bayard asked Platt to amend the resolutions so as to call for a complete alphabetical list of pensioners. Mr. Platt declined as it would delay too long the information desired by the Committee on Pensions in connection with the pending bill. The resolution, at Mr. Beck's suggestion, went over until to-morrow. A resolution to meet at 11 o'clock was rejected, leaving the hour of meeting at noon.

After passing the bill permitting retired army officers to hold official positions in Territories, the Senate, at 2 P. M., on motion of Mr. Pendleton, adjourned, as a mark of respect to the late Representatives Updegraff and Lowe.

House.

The House met at 12 m. The Speaker laid the annual report of the Comptroller of the Currency was referred to the Committee on Banking and Currency. Mr. Kelley of Pa., chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means, reported a bill to abolish the internal revenue taxes on tobacco, snuff, cigars and cigarettes. Referred to Committee of the Whole and minority granted leave to file a minority report.

Mr. Anderson, of Kansas, asked that the bill be read.

Mr. Kasson, of Iowa, stated in explanation that the tax was taken off of tobacco in all its forms to take effect in July next, and that a strong minority dissented from the provisions of the bill.

Mr. Mills, of Texas, asked that it be made in order to offer amendments reducing customs duties, but the Speaker ruled that that was not now in order.

Mr. Randall, of Pa., speaking as a member of the majority of the committee, had no objection to having the two reports printed together, provided the minority did not too long delay in preparing its views.

Mr. Kasson, as a member of the minority, thought that the minority views could be prepared and presented this week.

A bill to amend the Revised Statutes so as not to exclude retired army officers from holding civil offices in territories gave rise to some discussion, but finally went over.

The bill to repeal and amend certain acts pertaining to the shipment and discharge of seamen was passed. The bill embodies substantially the modification of the law recommended by the joint special committee having in charge the question as to the decline of American shipping.

A message from the Senate announced the death of Hon. Benjamin Hill, of Georgia, and after a few touching remarks by Mr. Hammond, of Georgia, the House as a mark of respect to the memory of the deceased, adjourned.

THE MORGAN CASE.

A Relative Claims He was not Killed.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Dec. 5. Tobias Forbes, of Clyde, in Wayne county, nearly eighty years of age, and whose father was a cousin to William Morgan, of Masonic notoriety, says Morgan was not murdered by his captors, but released on condition that he would leave the country, and he did so, going to Melbourne. He there commenced the publication of a newspaper which, after his death, passed to the hands of his son who may now be living in that locality.

THE MESSAGE.

Comments of the New York Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5. The Herald comments on President Arthur's message and says that if Republican Congressmen have learned wisdom from defeat they will now use this present message as their text book and conform their action to every one of its wise and useful recommendations.

The Tribune says that if the President shall conduct the remainder of his administration in accordance with the statements of his message he may yet unite his party and thus secure for himself a greater success than his ambition now pictures to him.

The World criticises the recommendations in regard to revenue reform and the tariff and says that the Democrats have now the acquiescence of the official head of the Republican party in the Democratic doctrine of the tariff. Let Democrats stand quietly on the principle that revenue is to be collected by the tariff only, and stand ready to appeal to the country against the party which retains the abuses of the internal revenue in order to protect the abuses of the tariff.

The Times discusses in a half dozen editorials the various points of the message, but expresses no opinion.

The Sun says everybody who reads President Arthur's second annual message with attention will feel that it is made in the interest of honest and economical government. No subsidy scheme runs between the lines. From beginning to end there is no recommendation upon which dishonest hopes can begin to build.

RAILROAD MATTERS.

Annual Meeting of the N. Y. and N. E. Railroad Company.

BOSTON, Dec. 5. At a large and harmonious meeting of the New York and New England Railroad Company to-day, in this city, the old board of directors were chosen, with one exception, viz: William B. Franklin, agent for Colt's works, Hartford. A statement was made by the President that the corporation ranks third among the New England roads as to gross receipts, that the business is now beyond what it can do promptly, that double tracks are to be largely increased, that accidents have occurred rather from over zeal than other causes.

President Wilson defended the management and employes against the severe criticisms to which he claimed they have been unjustly subjected, saying the accidents the past three months were due alone to the sudden rush of business and the desire of the employes to handle the greatest amount of freight possible.

Statement Denied.

MONTREAL, Dec. 5. The statement that the Grand Trunk authorities had purchased a controlling interest in the North Shore Road, is authoritatively denied.

A TERRIBLE DISCOVERY.

SYSTEMATIC GRAVE ROBBING.

A Business Carried on for Nine Years.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 5. Frank McNamee, a Dutchman, Pillet, Levy and Clew, the latter a colored man, were arrested late last night while drawing a wagon containing five bodies to the medical college. The bodies had been stolen from a cemetery. This morning a detective visited the cemetery and arrested Robert Clew, its Superintendent, and Andrew Mullen.

In the hearing in the case to-day Louis M. Megargel testified that the keys found on McNamee fitted the doors in the room where the bodies were prepared for dissection, at the Jefferson College. McNamee denied knowing who gave them to him or what he was to get, but finally said he had waited outside the cemetery while the others brought out the bodies and he knew where they came from.

Robert Clew, when arrested at the cemetery yesterday, began crying and said he was paid three dollars for every body taken from the cemetery and that the money was handed him by his brother. He did not know how many graves had been robbed. Sometimes Pillett did the digging and sometimes Levy. He has been in the cemetery eleven years and body-snatching had been going on nine years. His brother-in-law, Solomon Butcher, now in Maryland, did it first, then a man named Myers and then McNamee.

Sometimes if a wagon came and the driver said they were short, coffins were opened in the receiving vault, the corpse snatched, and the farce of burying the empty coffin gone through the next day. The records of burials found at the cemetery showed that in two months 55 bodies were in one grave. This created a sensation among the audience. The prisoners were held in $5,000 each for further hearing Friday next.

THE DEFUNCT PACIFIC BANK.

The Second Assessment.

BOSTON, Dec. 5. Lewis M. Price, Receiver, has issued the following circular to the stockholders of the defunct Pacific National Bank, under date of Dec. 1st:—"You will please take notice that the Comptroller of Currency has levied an assessment on the stockholders of the Pacific National Bank of $100 a share, payable at the office of the Receiver, as follows: $50 a share within 30 days from date hereof, and $50 a share within 60 days. You are therefore requested to pay the amount of your assessment according to the aforesaid notice, otherwise the whole amount will bear interest from November 27th 1882, and a suit will be commenced to enforce payment." This is the second assessment levied by the Comptroller.

FROM WASHINGTON.

General News.

Work of the Committee on Ways and Means.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5. The House Committee on Ways and Means to-day adopted the report in favor of a bill abolishing all internal revenue tax on tobacco, snuff, cigars and cigarettes. The revenue derived from tobacco in 1882 was over $47,000,000. Chewing and smoking tobacco alone yielded $25,000,000. The report made by Mr. Kelly states the committee is persuaded that the time has come when these taxes which are a pressure upon tobacco growers, especially the small planters, whose places are remote from the popular highways of travel and therefore inaccessible to licensed dealers in leaf tobacco, should be repealed. As tobacco is one of our staples that enter largely into our international trade the Government should at the earliest possible day remove every restriction therefrom as a measure of sound commercial policy. The committee amended the bill by fixing the date at which it takes effect on the first of July, 1883, instead of the first of January, 1884, as proposed by the original bill, and with this amendment recommended its adoption.

The Dickson Case.

To-day was set for the preliminary examination of the Dickson case in the police court. There are two charges against Dickson: One of attempting to improperly influence the Star Route jury, and the other of conspiracy with George W. Driver to illegally obtain money from the United States. Nearly all the members of the Star Route jury came into court in a body. Dickson and Driver sat side by side. Mr. Wells opened the hearing by reading the warrant in the case, and the attached affidavit of Juror McNelly, in which he accuses Dickson of reading to the jury a paper charging the Department of Justice with attempting to bribe him, the object of its introduction being to unduly influence the jury in the case under consideration.

After a plea of not guilty had been entered Mr. Wells offered in evidence a certified copy of the record in the Star Route case. Assistant District Attorney Moore was called for the purpose of identifying the affidavit made by Mr. Dickson, but the defence immediately objected to the certified copy presented and demanded the production of the original paper. Mr. Moore meanwhile identified the paper as a correct copy of the original affidavit which he said was in Dickson's handwriting and had been given to him by Dickson, Sept. 12th last, in compliance with orders from the District Attorney. Witness had sealed up this particular affidavit with others and addressed them to Benj. Harris Brewster. Witness could not be certain that the Dickson affidavit was among those which he subsequently turned over to Mr. Wells.

Cross-examination elicited nothing new. Matthew McNelly, the next witness, described the proceedings in the jury room. Witness said that Dickson pulled out a paper relating to the Bowen matter and proposed to read it to the jury. Witness objected and believes another juror objected, but the jury took a vote and the paper was read. The paper was offered in evidence at this point, but objection was made by the defence.

The last witness was Juror Donham, who corroborated the testimony of the other witnesses. Adjourned till to-morrow.

Postal Matters.

In pursuance of a call from the First Assistant Postmaster-General, a commission composed of Postmasters from several large cities, assembled here to-day to regulate the issue of stationery and other supplies to postoffices, with a view of securing uniformity. The commission will also try to arrange a plan for supplying these articles directly from the department, instead of allowing Postmasters to contract separately for themselves.

After a session of three hours the Commissioners adjourned sine die. A resolution was adopted whereby Postmasters agreed to unite, so far as possible, on a series of blanks, each Postmaster to send a complete set of blanks to the other offices for selection and comparison, and the Department to finally decide on the styles best adapted to the requirements. A complete set of postal stationery was also agreed on which will be supplied to all offices directly by the Department.

A New Clerk.

Amos L. Allen, of Alfred, Maine, has been appointed Clerk of the House Judiciary Committee, vice Geo. M. Clark.

LOUISIANA.

Kellogg Returned.

BATON ROUGE, Dec. 5. The Governor has given certificate to Kellogg in accordance with returns from the 3d district.

THE TRANSIT OF VENUS.

Preparations of the German Astronomers.

HARTFORD, Conn., Dec. 5. The German astronomers to-day finished preparatory observations and made final tests of their instruments. The indications this evening lead to the fear that the day will be cloudy. A light rain commenced at ten o'clock. If the day is clear three telescopic observations of the contact at ingress and egress will be made at the station of astronomy at Trinity College. Most of the interval between the contacts will be devoted to heliometric measurements. It is hoped in this time eight full sets of observations can be made.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Municipal Elections.

BOSTON, Dec. 5. Municipal elections were held in various cities of the State to-day.

In Chelsea the straight Republican ticket was elected. The city voted for license by 17 majority.

Fitchburg elected the entire Citizens' ticket except one Councilman and one member of the school ticket. License was voted for by 152 majority.

Malden elected a Republican Mayor and voted no license.

Taunton voted no license and elected a Prohibition Mayor. Six of the eight Aldermen are Prohibition.

In Gloucester the Republicans elect their Mayor. The Aldermen are equally divided—four each and the Republicans have a majority in the Common Council. The city voted license by 159 majority.

Springfield elected a Republican Mayor, and the Republicans have a majority in the Board of Aldermen. Voted license by 84 majority.

In Holyoke the citizens' candidate for Mayor was elected, and the city went strong for license. The Aldermen comprise 5 Democrats and 2 Republicans, and the Democrats are in a majority in the lower branch.

In Brockton a Democratic Mayor was elected, who is a pronounced license man, and the city voted in favor of license by 453 majority. The Republicans have a majority in the Board of Aldermen.

Haverhill elects the citizens' ticket and votes for license by 358 majority.

Newton elected a straight citizens' ticket without opposition, and voted no license.

Cambridge re-elected Mayor Fox on a peoples' ticket and voted for license.

In Somerville Mayor Cummings was re-elected without opposition. The city voted against license.

New Bedford elected a citizens' candidate and voted no license.

Fall River re-elected Brayley (Democrat) and gave a large majority in favor of license. The Republicans have a majority of six in the city government on joint ballot.

Lawrence re-elected John Breen (Democrat) Mayor and voted license by 1,928 majority.

A STALWART OLD ENEMY.

One of the toughest old adversaries of human comfort, and most difficult to exterminate, is rheumatism. Many middle-aged people suffer torture with it, and the old folks who have it find it the pest of their lives. The case of a venerable lady of Lewistown, Mass., is of great interest to the victims of this tough old enemy. Mrs. Swett says: "I have been using Perry Davis's Pain Killer for about eight years. As soon as I apply Pain Killer I have almost immediate relief from pain."

What is needed is pure blood, as the influence of its purity upon the health cannot be overestimated. When it becomes impure, it gives rise to a large number of diseases, such as biliousness, sick headache, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, low spirits, nervousness, female complaints, etc. The success which has attended the use of Swedish Botanic Compound warrants us to say that for purifying and enriching the blood, creating an appetite, strengthening and renovating the whole system, nothing surpasses that great remedy.

Messrs. J. Murray Kay, of St. John, and F. W. Cram, of this city, were in Portland yesterday attending a meeting of the All Rail Line.

The first issue of the Cherryfield Courier has appeared and the publication will be issued monthly. Ambrose S. Willey is editor and publisher.

Regular business meeting of the Crusade this afternoon at half-past two. Prayer meeting at four o'clock; held in the reading room, Franklin street.

Chief Justice Appleton will preside at the January term of the Supreme Judicial Court in Bangor and Judge Peters will hold the January term at Machias.

The Orrington Course of Lectures will be opened Monday, Dec. 11th at the M. E. church, by Rev. T. Gerrish, of Bangor. Subject: "A Visit to the Battlefield of Gettysburg."

Rev. G. Leon Walker, formerly of State street church, Portland, and Rev. Newman Smyth, formerly of the First church, Bangor, have been elected directors at large of the Connecticut Home Missionary Society.

At a recent reunion banquet of New Englanders at Atchison, Kansas, Charles N. Hersey, Esq, formerly of this city, officiated as toastmaster. Mr. Hersey was elected moderator of the association for the ensuing year.

Early last evening a woman was run over while on the crosswalk at the foot of Hammond street, and received quite a bad cut in the face near one of her eyes. She was taken into Mann's drug store and her wounds dressed.

The regular monthly meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held at their rooms last evening. The reports of the various committees were presented, and were full of encouragement, showing that the work is progressing very satisfactorily.

Snow-slides were all the rage during yesterday, especially in the forenoon, and pedestrians journeying along the sidewalks in the business part of the city were in constant jeopardy of annihilation from down-falls of snow and ice from the roofs of blocks.

Messrs. J. B. Ayer, S. N. Dean, Capt. J. Wentworth, H. B. Cushman, Thos. Hanover, Chas. H. Eastes, W. P. Perkins and Capt. A. F. Gerry of the Reform Club, will attend the State Convention of Clubs, which opens in Portland to-day. Others from this city may also attend.

The transit of Venus occurs to-day. The planet will pass across the southern part of the solar disk as a small black spot, visible to the naked eye. If the skies are clear the spectacle will begin to be seen from this vicinity at about nine o'clock and will end at about half past three.

The afternoons will reach their shortest to-day, when the sun will set about 4.17, but will not begin to lengthen until the 15th. The mornings have yet to be 20 minutes shorter, the sun continuing to rise later until the 28th of Dec., and will not begin to lengthen until Jan. 7th.

CRUSADE FAIR. The Crusade fair will open Thursday at two o'clock. All who will furnish refreshments for the tables can leave them at City Hall any time during the day Thursday and Friday. If not convenient to send them to the Hall they will be sent for if word is left where they may be found.

A TROUBLESOME PASSENGER. The Pioneer says: A passenger on board the Danforth mail stage, last Wednesday night, being under the influence of liquor, attempted to take possession of the team. The driver brought him back to Houlton and had him locked up till next day, when he was discharged, a sober, wiser, and we hope a better man.

A SEVERE FALL ON THE PAVEMENT. Mr. James F. Slater, the Bangor agent of the American Express Company, experienced a severe fall yesterday forenoon on the slippery sidewalk of Hammond street. He was removed in an unconscious condition to the Express Office, where he revived. His many friends trust no serious consequences will ensue. During the afternoon he was quite comfortable.

ILLNESS OF EX-GOV. WASHBURN. The Portland Press says: Thanksgiving Day, ex-Gov. Washburn returned from church and thought he would take a nap before dinner. He threw himself on a lounge and when he awoke he could not move his legs. From below the small of the back he was paralyzed. He was put to bed and physicians called. Drs. Weeks and Wood treated him and Monday he was up and dressed. He could move his legs a little, but said there was no strength in them. He is apparently on the mending hand.

NOT CLOSED TO NAVIGATION. The steamer Katahdin left Boston at the usual hour Monday evening, but encountering rough weather was obliged for a time to put into Portland. After a delay of some hours she continued on her journey and reached the Penobscot during the early afternoon. The mild weather had softened the ice very materially in our harbor, and so the Katahdin decided to continue on the trip to this city. About ten o'clock in the evening the whistle was heard and she now lies at her wharf in Bangor. It, therefore, seems that our port is not yet closed to navigation.

THE THAW. During the latter portion of Monday night the temperature moderated rapidly and yesterday the weather was very mild, a great change from the day preceding. The snow rapidly disappeared before the warm rays of the almost summer sun and a genuine thaw was experienced. The sleighing has been largely dispelled in the city and the travelling is not improved by any means. A few brief hours wrought a great transformation. There was a difference in temperature of nearly fifty degrees between Monday morning and the same hour yesterday.

EPISCOPAL BOARD OF MISSIONS. The Board of Missions for the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Maine met in this city with St. John's Episcopal church last evening. Bishop Neely and prominent Episcopal clergymen from various parts of the Diocese are in attendance. At 7:30 o'clock last evening a service was held at St. John's Episcopal church, which was well attended. The Bishop administered the Apostolic Rite of Confirmation to a class prepared by the rector and also gave an address. Services will continue through to-day, morning and evening. At the 10½ A. M. service Holy Communion will be celebrated and the Rev. H. P. Nichols, of Brunswick, will preach. At the 7½ P. M. service addresses will be delivered by a number of the clergy. Seats are free to the public at all the services.

HYMENEAL. Between the hours of five and six o'clock yesterday afternoon the Somerset street residence of Silas D. Jones, Esq., the well known clothing dealer and one of our most esteemed citizens, was the scene of a very happy event. In the presence of a pleasant party of relatives and intimate friends Miss Maude A. Jones was united in marriage to Mr. W K. Shaw; the ceremony being performed by Rev. Geo. W. Field. The bride is a daughter of S. D. Jones, Esq., is an attractive and accomplished young lady and is well known in Bangor society circles. The groom is a popular and active young business man and is the junior partner of the firm of Dudley & Shaw, of this city. The wedding gifts were numerous and very elegant. The couple left on the evening train for a bridal tour, carrying with them the kindest wishes of many friends.

A PLEASANT ENTERTAINMENT. Golden Sheaf Council No. 15, Order United Fellowship, gave an entertainment and oyster supper at the Town Hall, Brewer, last evening. The large audience very warmly received the following programme: Duet, Mrs. Hammond and Miss Henry; Reading, "Christmas in the Quarters," Miss Moore; Solo, Mrs. Hammond; Reading, "Dandy Fifth," Mrs. Dowst; Solo, "No Sir! No Sir! No!" Miss Henry; Reading, "How the Old Horse Won the Bet," Miss Moore; Duet, Mrs. Hammond and Miss Henry; Reading, "The Deacon's Story," Mrs. Dowst. Miss Merrill presided at the organ during the musical selections. The entertainment was one of real merit, and reflects much credit upon the Council under whose auspices it was given.

AMUSEMENTS.

A Lecture on Southern Battlefields.

A large audience greeted the Rev. Theodore Gerrish in the Opera House last evening. The lecture was given as a benefit to the Relief Fund of the G. A. R. The address was devoted to a description of the scenes witnessed, the incidents which transpired and the information gleaned during the recent trip of Mr. Gerrish through the South. In this effort the speaker confined himself largely to the battlefields of Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, Wilderness and Spottsylvania and this subject was so broad that much of interest had to of necessity be left unsaid. The audience was first addressed by Dr. A. C. Hamlin, who in very felicitous language introduced "Corporal" Gerrish, who for an hour and a half held the closest attention of the large number of hearers. In interesting and eloquent language these four memorable conflicts were described and the smell of gunpowder, the roar of artillery and the sound of carnage could almost be detected as these scenes of valor and strife were graphically pictured to the audience. The speaker described in beautiful words the National cemetery at Fredericksburg where 17,000 Union soldiers have been tenderly gathered from the battlefields of that vicinity and now peacefully repose in this city of the dead. The cemetery embraces thirty acres, the land rises in natural terraces and the grounds are laid out in squares and circles and neatly kept. On a mound in the centre is a flag staff from which the National colors float every day in the year. Cannon and tablets with suitable inscriptions are placed in different portions of the grounds. A granite post marks each grave and each one whose occupant was known is numbered and the books in the superintendent's office records the name, regiment and company of the soldier. About one-sixth of the soldiers who lie here are known. The ground is cultivated, shrubbery has been set out and the city of the dead has been transformed into a paradise of beauty. The description of the battlefields as they appear to-day was highly interesting. The speaker showed a remarkable familiarity with the events of those great battles and his brilliant word painting made the address very entertaining. It would be impossible in a brief report to do justice to the many interesting incidents and unpublished details which the speaker has been able to glean and has thus narrated to our people for the first time. These addresses of Rev. Mr. Gerrish on his trip to Southern battlefields promise to add valuable contributions to the literature of the Great Rebellion. During the lecture the speaker was frequently the recipient of hearty applause.

New Magdalen.

From a lengthy notice in the Montreal Herald of Nov. 22, we take the following:

Mr. McDowell's Company last night gave as fine a performance of the play as we have ever seen. Every character was well portrayed. Miss Fanny Reeves in the leading role of "Mercy Merrick," stepped right into the character, from the outset, and for the while lost her identity in the part. Her delineation was a most intelligent and sympathetic one, not wanting in force and intensity when it was required, while at the same time surrounding it with all that was most noble and beautiful in repentance over a grevious sin. Every action, gesture and movement of Miss Reeves ran evenly into and suited the lines, while all the smaller details were most attentively looked after. Mr. J. H. Gilmour made a most favorable impression in his impersonation of the young curate "Julian Gray." He looked, dressed and faithfully played the role for all he was worth. The rest of the Company gave good support.

The play will be given at the Opera House to-morrow evening and tickets are now on sale.

Notes.

Tickets for the three remaining lectures in the Harry W. French course are meeting with good sale.

For the Emma Abbott English Opera season the following operas have been decided on: Tuesday evening, Dec. 26, "Lucia, Bride of Lammermoor;" Wednesday evening, "Fra Diavolo." For the Wednesday matinee, the opera will be shortly announced. A subscription list will be opened at the Opera House in a few days.

THE TRANSIT OF VENUS.

Preparations for Important Astronomical Observations.

The transit of Venus which occurs to-day has been looked forward to with the deepest interest by astronomers. Preparations have been made on a grand scale in different parts of our country and if the weather proves favorable it is anticipated the observations made will result in great benefit to science. Prof. M. C. Fernald, of the State College, arrived in the city last evening and will take observations through the new and costly telescope recently received by our fellow citizen, Mr. Fred A. Eddy, at his home on State street.

Prof. Fernald made application for the time signals and yesterday one of the wires of the telegraph at Bangor was attached to the Naval Observatory clock at Washington, along with others communicating with hundreds of other places. The signal began at 11 h. 56 m. 30 sec., Washington time and ceased at 12. By Bangor mean-time the operation ceased at 12 h. 33 m. 6½ sec., showing that Bangor time is that much faster than Washington. The distance between the two cities is about 700 miles. Prof. Fernald could not be in attendance, but he was represented by Mr. Emery G. Ingalls, the well known jeweler. Persons present at the Bangor office could witness by the representative movement of the instrument, the movement of the pendulum of the Washington clock, and also get the tick at absolutely the same time. The signals sent out by the Observatory are wholly automatic, and consist of a series of short breaks so made in a closed telegraphic circuit as to represent the beats of a mean-time clock. They began at 11 h. 56 m. 30 s. and ceased at 12, Washington mean-time. During that interval there was a break at the beginning of every second, except that in each minute the breaks corresponding to the 29th second, and to the 55th, 56th, 57th, 58th and 59th seconds were omitted. Thus, the first break after the pause of 5 seconds marks the beginning of a minute, and the first break after the pause of one second marks 30 seconds. At 12, Washington time, there was only a single break, and there the signal ceased.

Through the generosity of the Western Union Telegraph Company, wide distribution is thus given to the time signals of the Washington Naval Observatory and it is very beneficial for persons or colleges desiring to take observations. Waterville, Me., and Salem, Mass., were among the points connected at the same time as Bangor. The time signals will be transmitted over the wires to-day and to-morrow.

CITY AFFAIRS.

The following business was transacted by the City Council last evening:

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

Notice of claim of G. H. Dunton for damages sustained by horse being frightened by railroad train on State street; referred to Committee on Accounts and Claims.

Hearing on Broadway and Essex street road assessments for benefits; adjourned to regular meeting in January.

Upon the veto of Mayor to order passed Nov. 7th to pave a portion of Central street, the Board failed to reconsider its former vote giving the order a passage by yea and nay vote as follows: Yeas, Aldermen Cummings, Rice and Snow. Nays, Aldermen Adams, Marston and Morse.

Petition for removal of explosive and inflammable liquids stored in rear of city buildings on Court street; referred to Committee on By-Laws and Police Regulations, with full power to act in the premises.

Report of Street Engineers upon laying out Front and Railroad streets; laid on table.

Order to change the name of Emerson street (now called Railroad street) to Railroad street; passed.

Report of Street Engineer upon laying out Stillwater avenue from Broadway to Essex street; laid on table.

The city clerk presented to the Board a veto message from the Mayor to order passed at last meeting, to pave a portion of Central street, and upon motion to give the order a passage over the veto, it was carried by yea and nay vote as follows: Yeas, Aldermen Cummings, Rice, Marston and Snow. Nays, Aldermen Adams and Morse. The Common Council non-concurring by vote of 2 to 12, the order was laid on the table.

IN COMMON COUNCIL.

Petition of J. E. Nickerson et als. for gas light on Patten street; referred to Committee on Gas Lights.

Order for City Solicitor to act as agent and attorney for the city and appear at Court in Boston in suit, estate of J. H. Foster vs. Bangor; passed.

Notice of claim of G. H. Dunton, of Winterport, for damage to team at Water Works—$250; referred to Committee on Accounts and Claims and City Solicitor.

Ordinance amendatory to an ordinance entitled "Physician;" obliging children to be kept from school, who are exposed to or sick with infectious disease, and providing for extra compensation for City Physician for his services in the matter, was laid on the table until the next meeting.

Communication from Dr. A. Plummer, thanking the City Council for their "friendly consideration," accepted and ordered on file.

This Board refused to concur with the Board of Aldermen in passing the order for granite pavement opposite the market house on Central street, over the Mayor's veto, by ayes 2, nays 12.

Concurred in all other matters acted on by upper board.

ALABAMA CLAIMS.

TEXT OF THE IMPORTANT DECISION OF THE ALABAMA COURT.

A Washington correspondent of the Boston Journal writes: The oral decision recently rendered by the Court of Commissioners of Alabama Claims, in two test cases, as reported by the official stenographer, has been carefully revised by the Court and made official and will govern the form of pleadings in all cases hereafter to be presented before that tribunal.

The first test case, that of Swift & Allen, of New Bedford, Mass., which was argued by Mr. Clifford, of Massachusetts, and Mr. Creswell and Mr. Walker Blaine for the Government, presented the question as to whether, for convenience and to simplify proceedings, a ship's husband could sue and recover in his own name for war premiums paid by him for himself and his co-owners, notwithstanding the fact that those co-owners had repaid him their proportion of the premiums paid.

The second case, that of Barling and another, executors of Edward Mott Robinson, of New York, which was argued by Mr. Charles Beaman, Jr., of New York, presented the question whether a commission merchant could recover in his own name and on behalf of his principals, war premiums which he had paid for them on goods shipped to their account.

This case was also argued on behalf of the Government by Mr. Creswell, and by Mr. Walker Blaine, who in these cases made his maiden speech as assistant counsel for the United States.

Judge French delivered the opinion of the Court. In cases No. 141, "Jirch Swift et al. vs. the United States," and No. 214, Henry A. Barling et al. vs. the United States," in which very able arguments have been presented on both sides, the Court has reached a conclusion which I will now announce, leaving it open for the Court to present an extended opinion, if they deem it necessary hereafter.

The difficulties in the way of allowing these positions, as presented by the claimants in these cases, seem to the Court insuperable. We cannot put the construction upon section 6 of the act re-establishing the Court of Commissioners of Alabama Claims, approved June 5, 1882, which has been maintained on the part of the petitioners, that the words "indemnity dividend set off or otherwise" contained in that section mean simply payments received in the way of return premiums, or scrip or cash dividends from the insurance companies themselves, but believe the intent of Congress was that these words should include everything in the way of recompense or reimbursement which should be made to the parties either from the insurance companies or from any other parties, and that the parties only who suffered the actual loss should be entitled to come into this Court and ask judgment in their own name.

In case No. 141, in pursuance of that conclusion the decree of the Court is as follows: "The Court orders judgment for the claimants for the sum of one hundred and ninety-eight thirty-four hundredths dollars ($198.34), that being the amount of premiums for war risks paid by them on their own account, with interest to be computed from Dec. 27, 1865."

In the case of Barling and others, executors, No. 214, it is ordered that the petition be dismissed.

We have felt, however, the force of the argument of convenience presented to the Court in behalf of the claimants in these cases. It seems very desirable, if it is possible to do it, to avoid the multiplicity of petitions which would be necessary if we required the claimants to come in personally and present their claims. Practically, as has been suggested by counsel, that would exclude very many meritorious claimants, who on account of the smallness of their claims would be prevented from coming here. It seemed to us that a construction might be put upon the statute which would avoid the difficulties on both sides without violating the letter or the spirit of the law. Although what we have already stated is sufficient, so far as the determination of these two cases is concerned, and ordinarily the Court would rest there, yet, as it is understood that these cases have been raised at this time mainly for the purpose of furnishing instructions and guidance to parties and to counsel who are waiting to present claims of a similar character to those here presented, we have thought it desirable and necessary to depart from our usual course and to state in advance the construction which the Court has put upon the statute and which seems to meet the difficulties on both sides, and that construction we have formulated in this manner:

"Where the payment of premiums for war risks was made by one party in his own name for the benefit of others, and the amount has been refunded to him, in whole or in part, by those for whom it was made, the petition may be made and sworn to in the name of the party so paying the premiums, or, in case of his decease, of his personal representative, for and on behalf of those for whose benefit said premiums were paid; and separate judgment shall be entered in favor of the parties beneficially interested.

In such petitions it shall be necessary to set out the name and residence of the parties having the beneficial interest, the amounts of their respective interests and all other facts regarding them required of a petitioner under Rule III. of this Court."

That rule will enable the parties having the actual beneficial interest, if they so elect, to have their claims brought by their agents, and obviates the multiplicity of petitions, or, if they choose, they may come in person and present their own claims. It also answers the requirements of the statute in that it will be necessary under this mode of procedure to present prima facie evidence, at least, that the parties beneficially interested were entitled to the protection of the Government, and bore true allegiance to the United States during the Rebellion, whereas, under the form claimed by the petitioners in these cases, it would be possible for a person, or persons, who were not entitled to the protection of the Government, and who, perhaps, actually bore arms against the United States during the late Rebellion, indirectly to receive what they could not directly recover. On the other hand it furnishes a safeguard to the real parties in interest by requiring that a separate judgment shall be entered in their own names, so that they will have no cause to complain; and the objections that possibly this fund would be withdrawn from the Treasury of the United States, where it is now in safe keeping, and placed in the hands of irresponsible parties and that perhaps a large or a considerable part of the amounts so awarded might remain in the hands of agents and never be called for are fully met.

It seems to us, therefore, that by adopting this principle, as I have said before, we violate neither the letter nor the spirit of the law, that everything is done under it which could possibly be required for the convenience of the parties, and that the interests of all parties are protected. Therefore, in the cases which have been argued, No. 141, we append to our order, as part of the decree, the following: "Entry of judgment to be suspended until the claimants shall have offered, if they shall so desire, to amend their petition so far as respects the claim made for premiums paid on account of Kehew and Adams in accordance with the construction of the statute now announced, which the Court has adopted and will recognize in this case and like cases hereafter to be presented;" and in the case of Barling and others, No. 214, "Entry of judgment to be suspended until the present claimants shall have offered, if they so desire, to amend their claim in accordance with the construction of the statute adopted by the Court in No. 141."

Willis A. Joy, of Ellsworth, a graduate of Colby, class '79, was admitted to the bar, at Grand Forks, D. T., in November.

LAST OPPORTUNITY.

Dr. Stearns believing that nearly all of the afflicted people in Bangor and vicinity have consulted him, has decided to close his office at the Penobscot Exchange, Bangor, on Friday evening, December 22d. During his stay here of nearly four months, he has consulted with 1485 sick people, and has placed under treatment 837 of that number suffering from various diseases. All these patients have been restored to health, or are being rapidly improved under the Doctor's treatment. Every day many of the sick who have been treated by every doctor, far and near, and who had despaired of being cured or helped, call at the Doctor's parlors to thank him for the great good he has done them.

Dame Rumor says that Judge Hilton has sunk the above tidy little sum in trying to carry on A. T. Stewart's business. The saucy jade has also made some credulous people believe that we, the undersigned, have made nearly that sum in our venture, and before the yarn gets noised about much, we take this method to stamp it as a base fabrication of some mischievous, idle quidnunc, with no truth in it. Speaking about stamping, reminds us to once more remind you that the boot is not genuine unless stamped inside.

We would also say that no boot in Bangor is sold at such a small margin as it.

PENOBSCOT COUNTY GRANGE.

According to appointment, Penobscot County Grange met with Rising Star Grange, South Newburgh, Nov. 25th.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather the previous day, and the threatening aspect in the morning, a goodly number were present. Ten Granges were represented and good reports given.

Delegates from Waldo County were present, and brought favorable reports. A hearty and generous welcome was given the County Grange by Sister Sevilla Dearborn, as follows:

ADDRESS.

WORTHY MASTER AND PATRONS OF PENOBSCOT COUNTY GRANGE:

Most worthy Sisters and Brothers, too,
The warmest of welcomes we offer to you,
We are glad you have come from your homes far and near,
To spend a few hours at our home to-day.

Your smiling faces we are glad to behold,
We welcome you truly, the young and the old
You are gathered together from near and afar,
To see here still shining the bright Rising Star.

We have seen days more prosperous—our star shone so bright
And her rays were so numerous, 'twas nothing but light.
Her rays were her members, but, alas! now we find
That instead of increasing, our Grange has declined.

Our Order, so noble, so instructive, so grand
That every true farmer should belong to our band.
Our motto, we stand, while love and hope shall last—
But divided we fall at the first wintry blast.

I love to see farmers in unity dwell,
Doing something each day, learning something, as well.
The Grange is a school for our farmers to-day,
'Tis indeed a dull scholar that can't make it pay

We welcome you, Patrons, and it would be strange
If we would not welcome our own County Grange
Many thanks for your coming, your presence to day
Fills our hearts with gladness, drives sorrow away

We hope you've come with good purpose of heart
That each in his own way will act his own part
When our meeting is ended and each goes his way
You will remember with gladness our meeting to-day.

When our Grange work is ended and each's life is o'er,
May we meet where and parting may come never more,
In the Grange of the Universe, where we shall receive
A greeting, a welcome, which the Master will give

Responded to in behalf of the County Grange by Sister Nancy Tasker, of North Star Grange.

RESPONSE.

Worthy Master, Brothers and Sisters of Rising Star Grange, I appreciate the privilege of thanking you in behalf of Penobscot County Grange, for the very cordial welcome and words of wise counsel spoken by our Sister in your behalf, I only regret my inability to respond in fitting terms.

We meet you to-day not only as friends, but a band of brothers and sisters organized, and working together for mutual benefit and advantage.

Experience has taught us that what costs nothing is worth nothing, but that whatever is really valuable and worthy to be secured, has labor and unceasing care as its price. We see this in all the avocations and professions in life. It is talent, cultivated effort, and perseverance, that wins. And we must ever bear in mind that the success of our order depends wholly upon the efforts of ourselves, and that active co-operation must be the rule and not the exception.

We shall ever hold in grateful remembrance your kindly reception and cordial greetings, and if any of you have become indifferent to the interests of the Grange, or your faith weakened, we sincerely hope that words of encouragement may be spoken to day, that will strengthen your faith, deepen your interest, and broaden your zeal. And above all we hope your Star may never set, but rise higher and higher, and shine brighter and brighter, a guide to your pathway here on earth, and when you will need its light no longer, having joined the great Grange above, may it continue a lasting legacy to your children and children's children.

Rising Star Grange owns a nice commodious hall, which was handsomely decorated with mottoes, hanging baskets, air castles and autumn leaves, they have a large dining hall and store on the first floor, and are doing quite a good business in trade

We were entertained with excellent music by the choir, Sister Dora Smith, presiding at the organ, who gave us a song which was very nicely rendered and highly appreciated.

Thanks were extended to Rising Star Grange for the handsome manner in which they received and entertained the County Grange, also thanks were given the choir for excellent music.

By invitation the Grange will meet with Golden Rule Grange North Newbugh, the last Saturday in December, which will be the 30th. Let there be a good delegation present. Meeting to commence at ten o'clock A. M.

It was voted the Address and Welcome be sent to the COURIER and Rural for publication. The meeting was one of interest and hope it will be lasting good. Twenty-five were added to the Grange, which makes our membership nearly six hundred.

6 Per Cent Gold Bonds.

TOPEKA, SALINA & WESTERN

RAILROAD CO. OF KANSAS.

This Company was organized for the purpose of getting railroad facilities to the people of Shawnee, Wabaunsie, Morris, Dickinson, Saline, Lincoln and Osborne counties, and is to run from Topeka, south-westerly and westerly, as above indicated, to Ogden, near the southern line of Osborne county, a distance of 191 miles, passing through that remarkable territory known as the "Great Wheat Belt of Kansas." This portion of tar territory has been, and now is, without adequate railroad connections there being from 15 to 70 miles of each side of the proposed line unsurnbered by any railroad, notwithstanding the population of the counties through which the road passes, numbered in 1881 one hundred and fifty thousand souls, and every acre of land susceptible of the highest cultivation

The Company will issue ten per cent forty year first mortgage GOLD BONDS PAYABLE IN GOLD, in the city of Boston, at the rate of $20,000 per mile, and will issue stock at the rate of $25,000 per mile, these said securities to be delivered to the contractor on the completion of the road in sections of ten miles each, said completion, according to specified requirements, to be certified to by the Chief Engineer of the Company before the delivery of the bonds and stock for such ten miles

The work on construction is progressing rapidly, and it is estimated that by the 1st of December two hundred miles will be completed 40 miles west of the city of Topeka, to the town of Alma

SUBSCRIPTIONS to the bonds may be made at the office of the contractor on the following terms:

For $900, twelve shares of stock (par value $50 each) and $1000 bond will be given, the latter bearing interest at six per cent. from the date of sale.

This price will be advanced from time to time as the building of the road progresses, or within the discretion of the contractor.

Full particulars will be cheerfully given to those who may call at the office, or any inquiry by mail will be promptly answered.

HEART DISEASE

IS YOUR HEART SOUND?

Many people think themselves well and die for lack of a little more trouble, or days, and, while of the truth, were sincere in so treating heart disease. Dr. Cardanthus, startlingly says "one third of my subjects show signs of heart disease."

The heart rarely ceases to announce an ill wont's treatment, and proper blood passes the right cause in a minute and a half, resting not day or night. Surely, it would pay a little special attention.

For 30 years a celebrated physician has given a special cure to all heart troubles and kindred disorders. Just known as Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator and can be obtained of you or druggists, perhaps, or, by express, $ only express $ not at any for Dr. Graves' Thorough and exhaustive treatise (1)

DURING THE LATE WAR

The Government made its Best Arms at Springfield, Mass.—What Mr. David Clark, Inspector U. S. Armory There Recommends.

Your reporter found Inspector Clark at his office on the Armory grounds busily examining "receivers" for the regulation army rifles However, he was as willing to say a word for the merits of health and strength restoratives as to prove the merits of implements of death. He said: "My business keeps me closely confined to the Armory and in doors. As a result, I've suffered considerably from indigestion and biliousness, but I find that Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is a most excellent medicine for these complaints I most cordially recommend it, for I am acquainted with its worth. Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is used a great deal by the mechanics in the U S Armory here"

While FAVORITE REMEDY is a specific in Kidney and Bladder diseases, it is equally valuable in cases of Bilious Disorders and Constipation of the Bowels Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only one dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts it to use in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that while he is now in the profession of his medicine, FAVORITE REMEDY has still continued to be the principal one professed, but confines himself exclusively to office practice. He treats all diseases and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery.

"I regard Mr Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse

CHAS MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Have always found his patents more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them valuable and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, late Commissioner of Patents.

R. H. EDDY ESQ.—Dear Sir you procured for me, in 1880, my first patent. Since then you have assisted for and advised me in hundreds of cases and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I will give you almost the whole of my business in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.
